Mattapoisett Town Meeting

TWO NIGHTS - $4.6 MILLION BUDGET
TAX RATE SET - $14.08 PER THOUSAND
by VIRGINIA ARRAL

The highlight of the two sessions of the annual Town Meeting came in the last few minutes of the second night when Selectmen Chairman John N. DeCosta announced the new tax rate of $14.08 per thousand. Admitting that it has been a long time coming, he said the state notified town officials that day - Tuesday, May 7th, of the new rate.

The 221 voters on the first night and 111 the second night stayed with the Finance Committee's recommendations and approved the sum of $4,669,280.85 to operate the town government - the final figure, after $55,828. for the town's revised share of the Old Rochester Regional School District budget had been deducted. Part of the surplus from the ORR budget - $20,000 - was applied to Free Cash.

Police Lt. James A. Santos questioned the legal fees of the ORR budget, as it pertained to the Stephen Browne case (the ORR teacher fired by the ORR School Committee in 1982); the case is still being appealed by the committee. Santos said he would like to know how much this litigation is going to cost the town. He noted the school department lost the arbitration hearing and the court appeal. "Once you've lost the ball game, you should let go. I don't feel it's appropriate to go ahead, especially as the Board of Selectmen has made known their objections to further court appeals on the grounds of cost."

Town Counsel Donald Fleming explained there is about $60,000 in wages at stake. He estimated about $7,000 to $10,000 for legal fees and if successful, the committee will save the town about $65,000. He added that arbitration felt the incident took place and set a one month's suspension. The committee did not feel the arbitration should decide how to administer the penalty.

The first session met head-on with a recommendation from Charles A. Morgan to amend the Personnel By-Law to: 1) delete a new class title/Mechanic Supervisor-Pay Grade 11; and 2) to delete the pay Grade 11 scale for a 40-hour week. Following a lengthy debate after Morgan asked for a secret ballot vote, which failed with only 13 voting in favor, the open voting amendment failed 153-63. The full-time mechanic unanimously became an accepted position on the list of town employees.

Morgan explained the rumor of hiring a new mechanic at $11. per hour has been affecting the morale of men and women in town employ. Morgan mentioned no specific person, but said the job had never been advertised and felt this was wrong.

Beverly Posiviata of the Personnel Board gave a background of the situation. She said Manuel R. Nunes, Jr., Highway Surveyor, came to the board last December 1st and asked for a full-time mechanic. She emphasized the position will be advertised, if voters approved. She added that all departments will have access to the mechanic, such as the fire, police, ambulance, shellfish warden, Council on Aging van, water/sewer, highway, as well as minor repairs like the generator. She noted that if a mechanic was hired from the outside or a town employee worked overtime, this could cost the town more money in the long run. When asked what other area towns paid their mechanics, Mrs. Posiviata said the range was from $4. to $32. per hour, depending on the skill of the person or what type of work he did.

Morgan admitted that the person doing the job now is well qualified but he asked why is he a supervisor? "Are you planning on hiring more mechanics?" Mrs. Posiviata explained the weekly managerial salary will do away with overtime. Richard E. Chase was upset with the way in which the Personnel Board approved the position. Mrs. Posiviata responded saying the board's emergency by-laws permit this action. A

Articles indefinitely postponed included a request of the Police Department to purchase a harbor patrol boat at an estimated cost of $22,000, completely equipped. In defending the need for the patrol boat, Police Chief James Moran said, "If we have an emergency, we have no way to get out to them. I feel it is the town's responsibility to those who use our harbor. The boat would serve a multitude of purposes, including a means of protecting boats in the harbor from vandalism."

The Finance Committee did not recommend the article due to a lack of money. A voter asked what happened to the 17-foot Whaler donated to the town by the Lions' Club. Selectman Frank Suzan explained it is too light for rough waters and is used by the shellfish warden to replant shellfish.

Also indefinitely postponed was a request by the water/sewer commissioners for a $40,000 back hoe loader. William Nicholson, superintendent, explained his department spent $4,500 last year in renting a loader; the highway department spent about the same amount. "We will try again", Nick said.

Voters gave approval for the Board of Selectmen to borrow $91,000 by bonds with state bond notes to extend the sewer system on Main and Beacon Streets and Tobey and Dexter Lanes. Ron Michalski of Tighe and Bond engineers, who designed the first step of the sewer system, was given permission to speak, as he is not a Mattapoisett resident. He said the second stage will cover about 37 homes in some of the problem areas. Mattapoisett has been placed on a priority list to receive $83,000 in state funding, Michalski said. If state funding is approved, work will start in late Summer of 1985.

Non-money articles passed include: giving permission to the Board of Selectmen to sell at public auction the Deniz property on Church Street. An amendment was passed to delete the words "private sale". Selectman Suzan explained the property was taken for a $42,000 tax default. He said the assessed valuation of the house is $19,000 and the land, $30,000. The town has no money to repair the house, and if "we don't do something with it it could become vandalized," Suzan said.

Also passed was an amendment to the by-laws to cover the fire alarm system regulations. As explained by Chief Moran, there were 412 false alarms last year, some caused by faulty electrical house burglar alarms. Moran explained cruisers responding to the calls don't know until they get there that the alarm is false. "We want people who have the alarm systems to let the police department know who they are. Even if we know where the alarm is we don't know who to contact to shut the alarm off if they don't leave the names, addresses and telephone of persons to call in an emergency." The article passed and included a $25. penalty if there are more than three false alarms a year.

Drive and Pocohontas Way with an amendment to the wording - to accept a deed of the fee "acceptable to town counsel".

Twelve zoning articles took up most of the second night's session. These were explained by Town Clerk Lois Ennis and Building Inspector David Crook. Crook was given permission to speak, as he is an out-of-town resident.

The first zoning article, in which petitioners sought to change a section of Route 6 from RR 30 to General Business, was defeated. As explained by George Correa, real estate broker, the section from Gaetano's to the Mahoney gravel pit, at a depth of 200 feet, is mostly business and this article would formalize a general business-oriented area. When asked by Mrs. Roxanne Bungert if there are parties interested in operating a business in that section, Correa said that last year someone was interested in opening a gourmet shop and cafe; at the present time, no. Richard Chase questioned the wisdom of changing the whole strip which he feels is primarily residential. He said he didn't favor seeing a "Coney Island look" in the area. A heated "private debate" between George White and Chase about the exact location of the proposed change reached no conclusion, but temporarily captured the attention of voters.

Speaking on behalf of the Friends Meeting House, Bradford A. Hathaway asked the voters to approve changing the section from the P & G land, which includes the cranberry bog, east to the Hillside Motel, from general business to residential. Voters favored the change after Hathaway noted the special permits that have been granted to the auto body shop, small engine shop that has placed the character of the neighborhood in jeopardy.

Although several voters expressed opposition to the article proposing restrictions on mobile signs, it passed to control "the proliferation of neon signs on Route 6", as Selectman James Huntoon explained it. A voter asked how this article would affect the Lions Club's "Haunted House" portable sign. Huntoon said "yes", it will affect this sign. Town Counsel Fleming added jokingly, "I figure it would take about one week to reach a decision on a special request to place the Halloween advertising sign on Route 6 for one week." The change on mobile signs would also affect political signs; however, freedom of speech allows this type of signs at this time, Fleming noted.

Other zoning articles passed will help to clarify explanations of lot size in the Upland and Hitching Post Roads area when connected to the town sewer system; amended the by-law to mean the conversion of one-family homes to two-family homes in the village are for homes on the town sewer system; clarified a by-law identifying "sales rooms" to mean "the selling of new and/or used vehicles"; clarified two set-back regulation descriptions and corrected clerical errors in two by-laws.

Zoning articles tabled were a request by the building inspector to restrict the storing of boats or recreational vehicles by persons other than the owner or renter. Crook said he had received four or five complaints since November of boats being stored in yards other than their own and blocking the view of neighbors. He said he had no authority to require their removal at this time. Also defeated was a request by the building inspector to limit the number of boats or vehicles on a person's property to three - any more would have required a permit.

TAX RATE CONFIRMED

John Gibbons, Assessor, confirmed the new $14.08 tax rate, saying it was less than the $15. the Board of Assessors was expecting. The rate is down about $10.00 and the assessments are up to about $235. million, he said, but the effect of the new rate on homeowners will remain about the same.

Christian Church Service

Sunday afternoon, May 19th, at 4 o'clock p.m. a service will be held in the old Christian Church Meeting House, located on Church Street near the Mattapoisett Town Hall. The Rev. Donald Finley will deliver the homily and Paul Smith will be the organist. The public is cordially invited.

This old church building is supported by a fund left by Edward P. Faunce in memory of his grandfather, who was minister of the Christian Church 1864-1898. The fund is administered by a board of five trustees who are appointed by the Probate Court and is to be used for the care of the building which is to be used for "religious, educational and historical purposes of and for the Mattapoisett community".

The Mattapoisett Historical Society has its home in the building, rent free. Come to worship and think long thoughts amid the material memories of the past.

"Web of Murder" at O.R.R.

This weekend, on Friday and Saturday nights at 8:00 p.m., the Old Rochester Regional High School Drama Club presents Jonathan Troy's mystery play, "Web of Murder".

Deception and intrigue vie for dominance in this enthralling who-dun-it. Not until the chilling denouement will you guess who is responsible for the multiple murders as a bizarre family is cut down by a psychotic killer.

"Web of Murder" also has a wedge of comic relief - just enough to keep the edge of your seat softer than the blade of a knife.

The cast includes Kristi Ainslie, Carrie Kunz, Karen Gracia, Kim Hilley, Stan and Yachting; Boat Building; Watersports; Shipyard Park; New York Yacht Club visits; Businesses pertaining to Boat Supplies.

These are just some of the subjects to be discussed. All discussions will be recorded to form an information bank for filming the history of the waterfront.

We will need old pictures to copy onto video tape to show what has happened in the past and how changes have taken place.

Please! If anyone has any old photos, slides, or movies showing any of these subjects or information on these subjects please contact Bea Johnson at 758-2510 or Mildred Hammond at 758-9586.

The subject, "The Waterfront" will take several sessions to gather all the past 80 years of history.

It is planned to keep everyone in town well informed of subject matter being researched. An open invitation to all is extended in participating or just sitting in on these Wednesday armchair discussions.

There is a need for volunteers to do research and anyone who has experience with video equipment.

This is a project that can become an important documentation of our time in history and it should be done with the very best effort of all the community.

Dream Playground Discussion

Robert S. Leathers, an Ithaca, New York based architect, will be at Sippican School, Marion on Wednesday, May 22nd, to meet with parents and students to discuss plans for building one of his nationally acclaimed playgrounds. In the past 13 years Leathers has designed and choreographed the building of 170 playgrounds in various cities across the nation.

Each playground is unique in that it is created from the children's list of wishes - castles and dragons, towers and turrets, space ships and rockets - almost a story book fairy tale dream come true. Children design the playground, while Leathers modifies the plans only by what he knows to be safe and affordable. Children, aided by parents, volunteers and town residents, actually help build the units, under the direction of Leathers, in a matter of four days. Funding is handled entirely through donations.

Parents who are interested in seeing this "magical kingdom" become a reality should attend the open meeting being held at 7:30 p.m. May 22nd in the Sippican School cafeteria. The entire community is encouraged to come learn if they can help make children's dreams come true.

Rochester Historical Society

RAFFLE OF HAND-KNIT AFGHAN

The Rochester Historical Society, on the brink of two exciting museums, is beginning a raffle which will run all summer and be drawn on Labor Day at the Town Festival.

The prize, and there is only one, is a hand-knit afghan, shown in the picture.

The design is original and shows the Town Green at about 1890, right after the new, and present, Town Hall was built. The three buildings representing the religious, educational and governmental center of the town are shown in the background, framed by the graceful elm trees which once lined the road. In the foreground people go about their lives, walking, riding, playing, and resting by the town pump while their animals taste their freedom.

The afghan is in two shades of brown, chocolate and soft beige; is completely reversible, is hand washable, and measures 55" by 60". It was designed and knit by Judy Gurney for the Society.

The afghan will be displayed at various places throughout the town, and tickets are available from members or call Eleanor Walker, 763-5772, or Helena Brown, 763-5619.

Good luck. Your ticket purchase will help finance the restoration of the "Rochester Mill" and the North Congregational Church.

Vietnam Veterans:

On May 27th at 1:30 p.m. the annual Memorial Day observance will take place in our town. This year's parade will begin with the traditional ceremony at the town library and then proceed to the town wharf, the Cushing Cemetery and finally the American Legion Hall. I have been asked by several members of the American Legion to write this letter and ask you to join us in our observance of Memorial Day.

As has always been the rule, uniforms are optional and no drill team performance is expected. Please join our Vietnam contingent and honor our friends on this special day. I look forward to seeing you on the 27th.

Letters to the Editor

On behalf of the staff of the Rape Crisis Project of the New Bedford Women's Center, we want to thank the residents of Mattapoisett for their unanimous support at Town Meeting of an article to appropriate $2,000 for the support of Rape Crisis Services and Prevention. This sum of money will help with the general operating costs of the Rape Crisis Project, and will also be used for education and outreach in Mattapoisett. Sexual abuse is a crime that occurs in all communities, and affects people of all ages: men, women and children. We applaud your willingness to recognize and address this problem as a community. We look forward to working with parents and school personnel in the upcoming year so as to prevent the sexual assault of our children. We also wish to thank the Board of Selectmen and the Finance Committee for their support. The Towns of Mattapoisett, Marion and Fairhaven have demonstrated initiative and leadership regarding the problem of

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

More than 20 million Americans - ten percent of all children and adults in the United States - have speech, language, or hearing impairments which severely affect their ability to function as human beings. One of the major tragedies of modern health care is that so many of these individuals do not know how to get help for their communication disorders.

May is National Better Speech and Hearing Month --- a good time to alert the public to speech, language and hearing problems.

The problems faced by the hearing handicapped are self-evident. The young child who says "wain" for rain and "thun" for sun is said to misarticulate. The child who fails to utilize language by 2½ to 3 years is in need of professional help. The individual who stutters is often the brunt of jokes and gags, embarrassed and hesitant to speak out in meetings or in the classroom and frustrated by the inability to share ideas with others. One of the most devastating of all communication disorders is aphasia. This is the disruption in speech, reading, and writing which results from stroke or other brain trauma.

Speech-language pathologists and audiologists are the professionals who work with individuals with speech, language or hearing impairments in an effort to restore or improve their ability to assume a meaningful and productive place in society.

It is important to remember that early diagnosis and treatment of speech, language and hearing problems is essential to a good prognosis. May - National Better Speech and Hearing Month - is the ideal time to get information and help about communication disorders.

If you are interested in further information about speech, language and hearing services please contact Southeastern Massachusetts Speech Pathologists and Audiologists at 758-6924 and 992-2450.

Owner of the Marion establishment Anthony Bradley will donate the rare lobster to the aquarium but will hold it in Marion until the 18th to give local people a close-up view. The lobster is all orange. The aquarium spokesman said that they have displayed an all blue lobster (a one in 2 million shot) and have displayed an orange-bodied lobster with a black head. They cannot even hazard a guess as to the odds on an all orange lobster because it so rare.

The lobster was brought in by a Buzzards Bay fisherman.

CONTACT LENS PROBLEMS?

Are you one of the growing numbers of past or present unsuccessful contact lens wearers? Or have you been told that you couldn't wear contact lenses because you have astigmatism, need bifocals, or just weren't a good candidate? Well, we don't believe it, and you probably don't either! With today's modern lens materials and advanced lens designs, there are very few prescriptions that cannot be filled with contact lenses. Whether you are interested in gas permeable, daily wear soft, tinted soft, astigmatic soft, bifocal hard or soft or the newer extended wear lenses, we would be more than happy to discuss your individual contact lens needs with you.

For a limited time, we are offering an initial no charge, no obligation consultation to previous unsuccessful contact lens wearers, or those who would like to know if they are suitable contact lens candidates.

If you are sincere about wanting to look and feel younger while successfully wearing contact lenses, we urge you to call us today at 992-EYES or 992-3937 for your no charge consultation.

Remember, you don't have anything to lose except your heavy eyeglasses.

The Past Revisited

What were the forests in southeastern Massachusetts like before the Pilgrims arrived? How about before the Indians came? Would Myles Standish recognize the forest which is named after him?

Find out! You are invited to a free talk Wednesday, May 15th, at 7:30 p.m. on Changes in Vegetation Since the Last Ice Age. The location is the Cranberry Experiment Station on Glen Charlie Road in East Wareham.

Dr. William Patterson from the UMass Forestry Department sampled the sediment in the bottom of two ponds in Myles Standish State Forest and analyzed the pollen and charcoal in the samples. From that record

Both the Indians and the Colonists changed things. Fire, logging and agriculture have all left their mark on the area. Learning about how man has affected the forests can tell us a lot about the kind of world we will leave to our children.

The Great Grapefruit Diet™

ALL NATURAL APPETITE SUPPRESSANT AND FAT REDUCER

INTRODUCING . . . the latest development in nutritional weight loss technology . . .
. . . the 4-way, all natural weight loss sensation!

1 GRAPEFRUIT EXTRACT — Fruit enzymes promote fat reduction by stimulating cell metabolism.

2 THE GREAT GRAPEFRUIT DIET also contains GLUCOMANNAN, the amazing vegetable fiber, used in Japan for over 1500 years, which absorbs over 50 times its weight in fluids - giving a comfortable "full" feeling, while cleansing your system. Glucomannan, as a high-fiber substance, has the ability to restrict the absorption of fat and cholesterol in the intestines.

3 THE GREAT GRAPEFRUIT DIET contains kelp, lecithin, apple cider vinegar and vitamin B6 - the oldest and most widely used natural fat-reducing formula in the world - for burning and emulsifying fat and to flush it out of the system.

4 Uva Ursi is added to the GREAT GRAPEFRUIT DIET as a gentle, smooth-acting natural diuretic to prevent fluid retention, puffiness and bloating.

The Great Grapefruit Diet is carefully formulated with the best natural ingredients to REDUCE FAT AND SUPPRESS APPETITE . . . Naturally!

Boating Safety: Extinguishers

Coast Guard approved fire extinguishers are required on most recreational boats. They have been life and property savers many times, but the occasion could arise, if they are not properly maintained, that the same fire extinguisher could become a potential bomb. Cases involving the explosion of a CO2 fire extinguisher aboard a recreational boat prompts this warning from the Coast Guard.

A 47 foot motor yacht that was tied in its slip was damaged by the explosion of a CO2 fire extinguisher that was stored in the cockpit of the boat. The vessel suffered extensive damage to the port side of the hull and minor damage on the starboard side. Apparently, when the fire extinguisher exploded, it crashed off the starboard side and them embedded itself in the port side, knocking several planks of the wooden hull loose in its flight. Estimates fix the damage to the boat at $2,500. Fortunately, nobody was aboard at the time of the accident so no injuries resulted.

The CO2 fire extinguisher that caused all this damage was 30 years old but appeared to the owner to be in good condition. Close inspection after the fact revealed that corrosion under the label was the source of the canister failure. Good routine maintenance probably could have prevented this damage.

On recreational boats that are required to carry Coast Guard approved fire extinguishers, there are two additional conditions that must be met. The fire extinguishers must be readily available and they must be kept in serviceable condition. The boater who knows his safety equipment knows that fire extinguishers need careful attention as they grow older.

Dry chemical fire extinguishers tend to lose their charge and CO2 extinguisher containers weaken under the "pressure" of waiting for a fire. The prudent mariner has his fire extinguishers serviced and tested by qualified personnel at regular intervals. As with all safety equipment, the fire extinguisher is a tool for survival. This incident illustrates that the boater who does not maintain his fire extinguishers can be playing with more than fire.

Heritage Plantation

"YOUNG AMERICA" MAJOR SEASONAL EXHIBITION

Heritage Plantation of Sandwich on Cape Cod opened for its seventeenth season on May 12th with a major new exhibition, "Young America: Children and Art", in the north gallery wing of the Arts and Crafts Building.

"Young America" chronologically portrays the images of children in the major periods and styles of American painting from 1790 to 1980. They are depicted at various stages of development from infancy through adolescence, children at play and work, learning, in mischief, facing danger and in death. A special effort has been made to include works of art which will contrast children from many regions and ethnic backgrounds.

Although emphasis will be on oil paintings, sculpture, art works on paper, toys and Native American Art, some furniture and other media will be featured also. Most of the larger paintings and sculpture will be in the upper gallery while a special photojournalism section will be included in the lower gallery, along with a display of dolls from the Wenham Historical Society, works on paper, and additional toys, from the Heritage Plantation Collections. A family activity center will also be located there. Reproductions of antique toys and costumes will be provided for families to use while visiting the Museum. Some of the contemporary artists included in the show will be making presentations about their work from time to time during the exhibition season; and hands-on art activities for children will be conducted by the Museum's educators and guest lecturers.

The "Young America" exhibit reveals that children come from a wide variety of ethnic and social circumstances, with differences noted from region to region; yet faces from two centuries ago can cause the viewer to feel a sense of deja vu. Children in art bring museum patrons a feeling of never ending life.

Lenders to the exhibit include Abby Aldrich Rockefeller Folk Art Center, Amon Carter Museum, Bennington Museum, New Britain Museum of American Art, New York Historical Society, Westmoreland Museum of Art, The Metropolitan Museum of Art, William A. Farnsworth Library and Art Museum, West Point Museum, The William Benton Museum of Art and many other museums and private collectors. A catalogue for "Young America" will be on sale at Heritage Plantation.

A second important exhibition, "Prints and Playthings", will be held through the season in the lower gallery of the Shaker Round Barn. The exhibit features selected Currier & Ives prints and toys from the Heritage Plantation collections. Included in the show are such outstanding prints as "Home to Thanksgiving", "Life of a Hunter-A Tight Fix", "Husking", "The Express Train", "Central Park, Winter-The Skating Pond", and "Peytona and Fashion".

Many of the cast iron, tin and lithographed wooden toys chosen for the show have not been exhibited by the Museum for the past six years. Among those on display will be such rare collector's items as a Francis W. Carpenter & Company Tally-Ho Coach and Four, a Clockwork Locomotive by George W. Brown, an Ives and Blakeslee Automatic Walking Doll With Carriage, the ship "Ocean Wave" by W. S. Reed Toy Company, and a "Peoples Line" tin stagecoach by Althof Bergmann & Company.

Collectively these nostalgic playthings and colorful prints accurately reflect American tastes and attitudes from 1850 to 1907 and will provide visitors with a vivid portrayal of travel and transportation, sporting events and country life during America's past.

The popular "Armor and Arms" from the collections of the John Woodman Higgins Armory Museum, Worcester continues for a second season at the Military Museum. The display represents the type of armor and weapons used from 1450 to 1750. The two companion exhibitions "American Ancients", an archaeology exhibit, and "Signs of the Spirit", ethnographic art, will remain on display for a second season at the Museum.

Visitors and members alike will enjoy the newly redesigned South Wing of the Arts and

Cranberry Herring Festival

The Middleboro Cranberry-Herring Festival is the only place in New England where you will be able to taste "bullheads in boggs" and try your hand at fishing with a 14 foot cane pole and "soda can" reel in the same afternoon. The Festival, which is part of Middleboro's celebration of Plymouth County's 300th birthday, will take place on May 18th from 10 to 4 at Oliver's Mill, Route 44, in Middleboro.

The Festival is being sponsored in part by the Massachusetts Division of Fisheries and Wildlife Urban Angler Program. The Urban Angler Program was created to encourage people to enjoy recreational fishing as a lifelong hobby. In addition, the program hopes to nurture a deeper public understanding of aquatic environments and to educate people about ways to protect and improve our water resources.

At the Cranberry-Herring Festival the Urban Angler Program will be sponsoring an unusual fishing tournament designed to heighten public awareness of underutilized freshwater fish, such as carp, sunfish, and blue gills. These fish are fun to catch and taste great, yet few people fish for them. In the tournament only, catches of underutilized fish species will be eligible for tournament consideration. All traditional sport fish (bass, pickerel, etc.) caught must be returned to the water. The purpose of this twist is to encourage people to fish seriously for species that are generally not fished for. All fishing equipment, including 14 foot telescoping cane poles, homemade reels converted from soda cans, light weight line, and bait, will be provided by the Massachusetts Division of Fisheries and Wildlife.

Volunteers will be on hand to demonstrate simple methods of cleaning and cooking underutilized fish. Other events planned for the Cranberry-Herring Festival include tasting tables where the adventurous may sample a variety of cranberry and herring recipes, including "bullheads in boggs", a cranberry natural history walk at its Old Field Pond Preserve on the Bourne-Plymouth line on Saturday, May 25th, from 10 a.m. to noon. This free walk will be guided by Mario J. DiGregorio, an experienced naturalist, who will introduce participants to one of the most interesting conservation areas in southeastern Massachusetts. At this time of year walkers can hope to enjoy the sight of rose pogonia orchids in bloom and the songs of wood warblers. For more information call 759-4431 or 826-5050.

In 1983 the PCWT was given 115 acres in Bourne and Plymouth by Mrs. Hope G. Ingersoll, whose family had protected the land as a wildlife refuge since the early years of the century. Within its boundaries are open fields, maple-cedar swamps, pine-oak woodlands, marshes, bogs and ponds. Two rare wildflowers, the Plymouth gentian and the long-beaked baldrush, grow there at the edges of the shallow ponds, and in season, pink lady's slippers abound in the woods. The ecological diversity of the place has attracted a wide variety of nesting and migratory birds, as well as many animals. It is an important habitat for native plants and animals, and a peaceful sanctuary in an area of rapid development.
